Master of Arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling

Mission

The Master of Arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling provides professional preparation for students from diverse backgrounds to practice counseling, care, and psychotherapy in a multicultural and pluralistic society. The MACMHC program's objectives are the development of a professional counseling identity grounded in a variety of theoretical orientations, with an emphasis on relational and depth psychological perspectives; the integration of spiritual/theological and cultural reflection in line with CTS's commitment to social justice, diversity and advocacy; and the development of core counselor competencies.

The MACMHC degree meets State of Indiana academic requirements for licensure as a Mental Health Counselor. It is aligned with CACREP standards and the professional orientation of the American Counseling Association (ACA).

Objectives

Objective 1: Development of Professional Counseling Identity, Knowledge, and Skills Grounded in a Variety of Theoretical Orientations, with an Emphasis on Relational and Depth Psychological Perspectives

The program enables students to develop their professional counseling identity, knowledge, and skills through self-reflective and professional experiences in the classroom, the counseling room, the space of supervision, and the community. Professional counseling identity, knowledge, and skills are guided by core content areas and ethical standards of the counseling profession; grounded in a variety of theoretical orientations, with an emphasis on relational and depth psychological perspectives; and informed by current research, for instance, on mother-infant interaction, trauma and addiction related neuroscience, and counseling processes. Students will develop their professional identity, knowledge, and skills within the context of the larger mental health care landscape and through active engagement with the counseling profession and its organizations.

Objective 2: Integration of Cultural and Spiritual/Theological Reflection

Cultural and spiritual/theological reflection is part of all components of the program and expresses CTS's commitment to social justice, diversity, and advocacy. Students will become aware of how their own emotional, cognitive, sociocultural, and spiritual development shapes their own professional identity. Students will have skills for respectful and appreciative interaction with clients from diverse cultural and spiritual/theological backgrounds in clinical practice. Through a variety of experiences in the classroom, in supervised clinical work, and in the community, students will develop competence in the integration of cultural and spiritual/theological reflection into clinical practice, demonstrated in a capstone presentation at the conclusion of the degree.

Objective 3: Development of Clinical Mental Health Counselor Competencies

Students will develop clinical mental health counselor competencies by applying theories and skills in clinical practice that support social justice and advocacy. The acquisition of clinical mental health counselor competencies will be assessed through studies in clinical mental health counseling over the span of the program, regular supervision evaluations in supervised clinical experience, and a final capstone presentation.

Requirements

Applicants to the Master of Arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling need to have an average 2.7 GPA in their undergraduate or prior graduate studies. The program requires 69 semester hours (SH) of required and elective courses, with a cumulative grade point average of 2.7. Courses marked with an asterisk (*) are prerequisites for practicum.

The time to complete a degree depends on the number of hours taken each semester. Typically, full-time students complete the degree over three and a half years, by enrolling in nine semester hours during each fall and spring semester in addition to at least one term of summer supervised clinical experience in the final portion of the degree. Some students complete the degree in three years. Students have six years in which to complete the Master of Arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling degree unless an extension for special circumstances is granted by the Academic Council.

Students are required to complete a minimum of 400 hours of direct service to clients of clinical mental health counseling, of which at least 10 hours must be group therapy, and receive at least 100 hours of individual and group supervision. Students conclude their degree by completing a Capstone Presentation as described in section D below.

While CTS makes every effort to be in compliance with the requirements of specific licensure boards (LMHC, LPC) and professional credentialing bodies (CACREP), students must take individual responsibility for monitoring and meeting licensure and credentialing requirements that may change between admission and graduation and may vary from state to state.

Personal Counseling

All students are expected to receive counseling during their program. Weekly personal counseling is a prerequisite for practicum admission. Personal counseling with a gifted clinician assists interns in working through problem areas in their own lives that may adversely affect clients and their own participation in an emotionally challenging training program; it provides a unique training experience that helps students understand the process of exploring the depth and interrelationship of intrapsychic and systemic features of human life.

Christian Theological Seminary's Counseling Center provides quality care for clients, students, faculty, and staff in a state-of-the-art facility located on the seminary campus. The facility includes:

- Twenty private counseling rooms
- Child and Play Therapy area
- Personal meditation area
- Viewing rooms for supervision
